THREE NEW ATTORNEYS JOIN NEVILLE PETERSON LLP

We are happy to announce that three attorneys have joined Neville Peterson LLP's international trade and Customs law practice. All three attorneys are in the firm's New York office.

Matthew G. Shaw joins the firm as a partner in the New York office. A graduate of the State University of New York at Binghamton and of Buffalo University Law School, Matt has two decades of experience in international trade and Customs matters. His experience includes stints with the Customs departments of two large international accounting firms. Matt's practice is focused on assisting importers large and small in devising and implementing compliance programs to ensure compliance with import and export laws and regulations, C-TPAT and other cargo security initiatives, and Customs automation.

Michael Cone joins the firm as counsel, in the New York office. Mike is a graduate of the University of Michigan, holds a law degree from Wayne State University Detroit College of Law, and a LLM Degree from American University. Mike formerly served as Law Clerk to the Judge R. Kenton Musgrave in the United States Court of International Trade. Fluent in French, Mike has represented clients in a wide range of international trade and Customs matters, including litigation in the United States Court of International Trade.

Ramnarayan Aiyer joins Neville Peterson LLP as an associate in its New York office. Previously a summer associate and law clerk with the firm, Ram holds an undergraduate degree in accounting from the University of Houston and a law degree from Yeshiva University's Cardozo School of Law in New York. He has served as a NAFTA Chapter 19 Panelist Assistant, most notably in the high-profile proceedings involving Softwood Lumber from Canada. Ram's practice will focus on international trade and Customs law, intellectual property, and litigation.

We welcome these new additions to Neville Peterson LLP and know they will help the firm expand its ability to deliver the highest quality legal services.
